Summary:

The project aims to facilitate interconnection of ecological formal and informal learning and involve excellent and active pupils together with the pupils who face educational difficulties, cultural or economic and social obstacles.

Description:

During the project realisation, the host school organises the meeting, and the partner school take part in the session. They work in a team, participate in/observe lessons, attend workshops, compare prepared analyses, suggest the solution to eco-problems of the partner schools, exchange their experience and ideas, gather materials for booklets and evaluate actual work. Through the ITTH project, the pupils and the teachers, as well, become aware of their responsibility for the environment. The ITTH project leads the pupils, teachers, and the public to realise that sustainable growth is the only way how to save the Earth for future generations.

As a result of the project there are also booklets, with each partner country being responsible for a different topic: <https://itth.webnode.cz/end-products/>
